Japanese Delegates Express Faith In Dr. Sze

FURTHER DEBATE

Production Of Drug Here Attacked By India

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Nov. 13.—The upshot of today's proceedings of the Opium Conference is that China emerges unscathed though the debate will be resumed tomorrow.

An essential feature of the French convention with regard to the control of sale of opium is restriction of the places of sale, prohibition of sale to minors, non-increase of the number of opium dens, prohibition of the traffic in dross and suppression of smuggling.

The most noteworthy feature of this afternoon's sitting was the Japanese delegates' taking up arms on behalf of China with a resolution expressing confidence in Dr. Sze's statements, expressing the hope that political circumstances will render amicable cooperation with China in suppression of the scourge fruitful and proclaiming Japan's unalterable fidelity in the principle of non-intervention in China's internal affairs.

Some heat was engendered following an amendment submitted by the Indian delegate regretting "the enormous illicit" opium production of China, which finds its way into other Far Eastern countries, rendering control very difficult."

Dr. Sze vigorously combated the amendment and Mr. Sugimura eventually withdrew the Japanese resolution.

(Reuter's Service)

Geneva, Nov. 14.—At the plenary sitting of the Opium Conference today the various delegations outlined the opium-smoking measures in their respective territories.

The Japanese delegate mentioned the great decrease of smokers in Formosa.

Sir Malcolm Delevingne (England) spoke of the conditions prevailing in Hongkong and the Straits Settlements.

The British and French delegations announced that they had prepared draft conventions on the subject of traffic in opium.

Sir J. Campbell (India) described the system of registration and rationing in Burma. He said that the possibility of extending the system depended largely upon local conditions. He expressed the opinion that prices should be regulated as the increase in the price of opium was tending to increase smuggling.

The British draft convention proposes that importation, manufacture and sale of raw and prepared opium shall be solely con-

War's Wreckage On The Shanghai-Hangchow Line

Two views of Bridge No. 31 on the Shanghai-Hangchow Railway line which was blown up by Lu Yung-hsiang's troops following the retreat from Hangchow.

The upper view shows one of the sections of the bridge resting in the water. The lower view is of the western end of the bridge.

Railway officials are as yet unable to estimate the length of time necessary for repairs, but it will probably be many months. In the meantime, the journey from Shanghai to Hangchow, which was formerly made in five and one-half hours, now requires as much as fifteen hours because of the necessity for ferry services at two points and the dire shortage of rolling stock on the Hangchow end of the line.

Two Thousand Travelers Due To Pay Short Visits To Shanghai This Winter

Four Globe-Circling Tourist Vessels To Call Here On Round-The-World Voyages With Americans And Europeans

Shanghai will be visited by four round-the-world tourist ships this season, the tours being conducted by the American Express company and Canadian Pacific Steamship company, Thomas Cook and Son and Clarke's Tours. Approximately 2,000 travelers will be on the four ships.

The first vessel to arrive will be the Belgenland, on an American Express tour. The Belgenland will be the largest steamship ever to circle the globe. She is due here January 26 for a two day visit. She will carry 500 persons.

The Empress of France will arrive March 27 and get away at 1 p.m., March 29, under the auspices of the Canadian Pacific company. The France will have approximately 500 persons aboard.

Cooks will bring the Franconia into port April 8 for one day's visit. She is scheduled to bring 400 passengers.

Clarke's also will have a ship in at about the same time as the other companies.

One of the vessels, the Belgenland, will come to the orient from New York, via the Panama Canal while the others, starting from New York, will come via the Suez Canal.

The Belgenland is leaving New York December 4. The Franconia will get away January 22 while the Empress of France is scheduled to leave New York January 14.

The usual arrangements are being made for the entertainment of the passengers upon arrival in Shanghai, the tourist companies announced yesterday. Rickshas and motor cars will be used in transporting the tourists to the various points of interest in Shanghai. All possible facilities will be extended for passengers to do all the buying they have money for.

Americans make up the greater part of the passenger lists but last year's tours found many Europeans aboard. The supply of persons wanting to make the globe-circling voyage has not as yet diminished to any great extent, tourist companies say, but the supply may run out in a few years.

Round-the-world tours can be made from any price between $2,000 gold and $35,000 gold.

Cruises last approximately 150 days. In that time all ports of interest on the circle around the globe are touched. Inland trips are made where possible.

"The Belgenland is the most advanced type of cruising ship," the American Express Company said yesterday. "She has three veranda cafes, two gymnasiums, a dance hall, three electric elevators, a swimming pool, Turkish baths, a deck tennis court and all the other luxuries of the modern liner, with broad decks designed for lounging, sports and dancing.

"Her crew numbers 700, and she has a chef from a fashionable European hotel, the Savoy at London. Dining room service is entirely a la carte.

"The itinerary to be allowed on the cruise and side trips includes fourteen countries and sixty cities. Cuba, the Panama Canal, Hawaii, Japan, China, the Philippines, Java, Straits Settlements, Ceylon, India, Egypt, the Holy Land, Italy, Monaco are on the route to be followed."

Merchants' Boycott Of Kiao-Tsi Railway Ends

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tsingtao, Oct. 28.—The boycott of the Kiao-Tsi Railway which was declared by merchants of all nationalities of this city because of what they considered an "illegal and excessive likin tax" has been virtually ended by the assent of the Shantung Special Tax Bureau to the proposal of the Japanese Chamber of Commerce. The latter, in lieu of the maximum hundred percent tax levied on shipments of beef, eggs and tobacco, offered a forty percent import, declaring the merchants would resume shipping again directly after the acceptance of the proposal. The Bureau voted to accept the compromise offer, thus breaking the deadlock that had existed for fully a month.

The Kiao-Tsi Railway had suffered a fearful slump in volume of freight receipts, more than $5,000 daily being lost because of the general boycott. Now that the merchants' demands have been met the business of the road is expected to pick up rapidly, had the tax not been applied it is likely the railway would have carried a great volume of traffic during the past month because of conditions at Tientsin and Shanghai, where shipping, because of war conditions, was materially lessened.

A new Japanese spinning mill, one of the largest in North China, was opened here on Friday and was visited by several hundred of the leading businessmen of the city, both foreign and Chinese. The mill employs more than a thousand workmen.

MORE DEFINITE CONSULAR POWER RULING IS ASKED

Arrest Of Chilean Consul For Alleged Interference With Police Urged On Mixed Court

A more definite understanding regarding the status and authority of the Chilean consul in Shanghai may be established as the result of a case which has been before the Mixed Court for more than a week. Yesterday's developments only intensified matters. The consular body may be asked to pass on the question.

Yang Hong-sung, claiming Chilean citizenship, was charged with conducting a lottery at 39 Kiangse Road without a license. Yang failed to appear before Mixed Court, claiming no jurisdiction. A warrant failed to produce Yang as he was sheltered by the Chilean consul, according to the police.

Mr. E. T. Maitland, police prosecutor, maintained in court yesterday that the consul had no authority to protect Yang. Mr. Maitland even demanded the arrest of the consul and requested the court to take the matter before the consular corps.

Police maintained a watch around the office of the Chilean consul the middle of this week, awaiting the time when Yang should leave the building but Yang failed to attempt a getaway although he is now believed hiding in the French Concession.

The court yesterday ordered that the property of Yang, under the name of the Central Chinese Savings Society, Ltd., be seized and kept by police pending a hearing of the case.

PEKING DENIES TALE OF LOOTING IMPERIAL PALACE

Boy Emperor's Treasures Are Untouched, Says Waichiaopu

(Special to The China Press)

Peking, Nov. 14.—A statement issued by the Waichiaopu today denies the allegations appearing in some newspapers that the Government has removed the imperial treasures from the palace.

The foreign office declares that nothing whatever has been touched in the palace and that every possession of the former emperor's is being carefully respected.

The statement adds that the report that camels have been going in and out of the Forbidden City, transporting loot from the Palace, is ridiculous. The rumor had its origin when a reporter saw camels entering the Imperial City with supplies for the troops stationed there, but it is claimed that the camel caravans never entered the Forbidden City.

BRITISH PASSPORT IS CONFISCATED FROM ALEXANDER

"Journalist" Finds Himself Again Man Without Country By Mixed Court Action

Edward Alexander, who has claimed to be a British journalist, again finds himself nearly a man without a country.

He appeared before the Mixed Court yesterday on a charge brought by the British consul-general that he had obtained a British passport by fraudulent declarations by stating he had been born in Liverpool, Australia. The consul said he had not.

Before the court yesterday Alexander said he was born in Russia of British parentage, had gone to Australia and failed in his efforts to join the Australian [illegible] because of being physically fit. After the war he returned to Vladivostok, was arrested there as a spy, had all his papers taken from him by the officials and was left without an official status.

He spent 20 years in Australia, he said.

He came to Shanghai after released by the Vladivostok police and succeeded in getting a British passport upon his declaration of Australian birth.

Mixed Court fined him $50 and ordered his passport confiscated.

CHANG TSO-LIN NOT TO SEEK OFFICE IN PEKING, SON SAYS IN INTERVIEW

Manchurian War-Lord Will Return To Mukden When Reconstruction Policy Is Worked Out; In Full Agreement With Feng Yu-hsiang On Necessity For Tuan Chi-jui's Leadership

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, November 14.—General Chang Hsueh-liang, Marshal Chang Tso-lin's son, in an interview this afternoon with Reuter's representative, stated that immediate political developments cannot be expected. The position was, he said, that Marshal Chang Tso-lin did not intend to accept any high office, and he would return to Manchuria when the reconstruction policy had been worked out, but he would probably pay a visit to Peking.

General Chang Hsueh-liang emphasised that the relations between Marshal Chang Tso-lin and General Feng Yu-hsiang were good. They met daily to discuss the situation, and both agreed that Marshal Tuan Chi-jui must be appointed leader, and with their support work out the policy of reunification. With this objective in view, concluded the General, Marshal Tuan was now communicating with all the provinces.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, Nov. 13.—The Chihli Provincial Assembly has decided to invite General Li Ching-lin, the well-known Fengtien general, to assume the Governorship of Chihli. They sent a deputation to ask the opinion of Marshal Chang Tso-lin on the matter and he has expressed his approval of the appointment.

General Wang Chen-ping has left his Yamen and at present is staying in the Japanese Concession.

The relations between Marshal Chang Tso-lin and General Feng Yu-hsiang are not improving, though Marshal Tuan Chi-jui is doing his utmost to avert open hostility between them.

Differences are also arising between Marshal Tuan and Marshal Chang regarding the future movements of Marshal Wu Pei-fu, the latter being anxious to resume the war against Marshal Wu, while the former is hoping for a peaceful settlement.

General Feng Yu-hsiang is remaining at the house in the Japanese Concession where he established his headquarters on his arrival in Tientsin.

WU'S SQUADRON GOES UP-RIVER TOWARD NANKING

Conference Held While Ships Are Anchored Off Tsungming

Marshal Wu Pei-fu and his fleet of [illegible] transports carrying approximately [illegible] troops reached Woosung at about one o'clock Thursday afternoon and after anchoring near Tsungming Island Thursday night steamed up river in the direction of Nanking at 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

Marshal Wu's fleet was met at the mouth of the Yangtsze by a section of the Chinese fleet belonging to Admiral Tu Shih-kuei under the command of Admiral Li Ching-hsi. A conference was held Friday night which was participated in by Marshal Wu and the naval officials who brought messages from General Chi Hsieh-yuan, and also with certain local Chinese friendly to Marshal Wu and interested in the new Yangtsze Alliance. It is not believed that Marshal Wu came ashore during his brief stay here.

Marshal Sun Chuan-fang of Chekiang and Fukien Provinces also had an emissary here to interview the former Chihli leader but whether he was able to get in touch with Wu is not known.

Marshal Wu is supposed to arrive at Nanking sometime this morning at which time the conference of Yangtsze militarists to determine upon a course of action is supposed to take place.

No Violence Intended To Manchus, Dr. Wang Pledges

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 6.—The Netherlands, British and Japanese Ministers were assured yesterday by Dr. Wang that no violence was intended against the Manchu Emperor. Dr. Wang then made statements which are embodied in the proclamations posted in Peking this morning to the following effect:

A mandate issued last night says that the government had arrived at the decision to revise the agreement relating to the favorable treatment accorded to the Manchu House and in connection therewith make the following announcement: The Taching Emperor in order to conform with the Republican form of government, which rules over the five races of China, and not wishing to perpetuate a system incompatible with Republican government, has agreed to revise the favorable treatment as follows:

1—The Emperor Hsuan Tung, beginning from today, abolishes for ever the honorary title of Emperor. Henceforth he will enjoy the same rights at law as other people under the Chinese Republic.

2.—When the new agreement comes into effect, the Government agrees to pay as a subsidy to the Manchu Emperor for domestic and personal expenses the sum of $500,000 a year, also to provide $2,000,000 for the establishment of factories with the object of providing employment to needy people, including the bannermen.

3.—The Manchu House, in accordance with the Favorable Treatment Agreement, will move out of the Imperial Palace and afterwards may reside where they like, but the Republican Government will retain responsibility for their protection.

4.—Imperial Tombs will remain as the sacred possession of the Government and be properly safeguarded.

5.—The private property of the Manchu House will be protected for them, while the property of the Republic in the Im-

HUPEH'S ATTITUDE

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, Nov. 13.—Upon receiving the information that General Hsiao Yao-nan, Inspector-General of Hupeh and Hunan, has expressed approval of the scheme proposed by General Chi Hsieh-yuan, Tuchun of Kiangsu for the allied defences of ten provinces in the Yangtsze Valley, those, who belong to Marshal Wu Pei-fu's faction, today called on General Hsiao and asked what attitude he would take if Marshal Wu should arrive in Hupeh.

In reply, General Hsiao is said to have stated that while he had no intention of assuming an attitude of opposition to the advent of Marshal Wu Pei-fu, he was not inclined to mobilise his troops for Marshal Wu now that he had already agreed to the alliance of ten provinces.

FENG WEAKENS

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Nov. 13.—Perceiving that all that he designed to accomplish in Peking has gone against his will, that severe criticism has been centered at him by both Chinese and foreigners alike and that no definite plan has been formed for raising military funds for the "National Army," the Christian General, Feng Yu-hsiang, is reported to have decided to rely upon Marshal Tuan Chi-jui entirely.

With regard to the disarmament of his troops carried out by General Li Ching-lin, General Feng makes no complaint with the understanding that General Li has taken such drastic steps on his own account without the knowledge of Marshal Tuan Chi-jui and Marshal Chang Tso-lin. He is thus looking forward to the settlement of the case by Marshal Tuan, who, it is learned, will return to Peking in a few days, inasmuch as important subjects have apparently been solved by the conference, now in session here, of Marshal Tuan, Marshal Chang, General Lu and General Feng.

HUPEH FOR TUAN

Young Grandson Of Wealthy Merchant Held By Kidnappers

Boy Is Abducted By Armed Gang From House Of Father

Police of the Settlement are conducting a search for the five-year-old grandson of a wealthy piece goods merchant, who was kidnapped from his home at 29 Kin Wo Ka on Thursday by a band of three men, two of whom were armed with pistols, and who is now supposedly being held for ransom.

One of the kidnappers appeared at the door of the home of the boy's father, Jen Siau-tsok, and informed the amah, who answered the knock at the door, that he had an important letter for her master. The amah told the man that her master was in Ningpo. While they were conversing, two men, armed with pistols, entered, and while they intimidated the amah, the first man to enter went into another room and seized the boy. Then all three fled, taking the boy with them.

Mixed Court Moves Against Influx Of Unwanted Russians

Woman, Expelled To Vladivostok, To Be Sent To Japan After Return Here

Mixed Court yesterday moved against the influx and return into Shanghai of "undesirable Russians who have been expelled."

Anastice Kontcheshoa, 29 year old Russian woman, was expelled from Shanghai and sent at the expense of the Shanghai Municipal Council to Vladivostok. She returned and was again expelled this time for shoplifting.

She was arrested again this week on Boone Road.

She told Mixed Court yesterday that she had believed she could live in Chapei or the French Concession. She had ventured on Boone Road because her husband had been arrested and she was seeking counsel for him. She had been in Shanghai only four days. She had not been admitted to Vladivostok because she had no papers and was forced to return to China. She was intending to go to Japan and had enough money for the fare.

Mixed Court instructed police to supervise her departure for Japan by first available steamer and warned her that she would be more severely dealt with if she returned to Shanghai.

perial Palace will go back to the State.

This mandate was issued by the Cabinet as Acting Head of the State, while the following mandate was issued by the Cabinet as the governing body:

Pu Yi (Hsuan Tung) of the Manchu House moved away from the Imperial Palace and all officials are hereby instructed to afford every possible protection to him. Proclamations will be posted by the police announcing the favorable treatment accorded.

There has been and is still a great amount of criticism among foreigners and Chinese regarding the manner in which the coup was carried out. The ex-Emperor is probably one of the most reasonable men in China, and if he had been approached in a friendly way he would assuredly have been quick to see the incompatibility of maintaining a Manchu court in the heart of the Capital of the Republic. Indeed, there is evidence of a strong desire on the part of the ex-Emperor to be a free man and to see his own country and other lands after a life of captivity. Not the slightest suspicion of intrigue has ever attached to his name. His position in the Imperial City, however, was much better than it is today, for he had his own people around him and was not so continually reminded of his captivity. The great show of force made yesterday is difficult to understand. These are the general comments being made today.

TENANTS FIGHT EVICTION; URGE GENERAL STRIKE

Acute Situation Develops At Clydebank As Orders Are Enforced

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 13.—There is an acute situation at Clydebank where house-agents have begun to enforce eviction orders which they secured from the courts months ago but which were delayed till after the elections. Arrears in rents and rates in this district amount to £250,000. Previously the tenants had met threatened evictions by organised passive resistance. Yesterday, however, the Sheriff's officers suddenly raided and turned out seven families.

Today six of the families were found to have been re-installed by sympathisers, the seventh preferring to take refuge with friends. House-agents now threaten proceedings against the tenants on charges of house-breaking. The tenants in the meanwhile are organising a protection association to propagate a general rent strike at Clydebank and also a corps of "scouts" consisting of cyclists and bell-ringers to give warning of the approach of evictors.

INTERVENTION NOTE SOUNDED BY TOKIO ASAHI

Warning Is Given China That Stable Government Must Be Established

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Nov. 14.—The "Asahi," in an editorial today, dealing with the attitude of the Powers towards the present situation in China, writes in effect:

"Taking into account the damage done to the Powers' trade with China as a sequel to the continuance of internal disturbances in that country, it is conceivable that the argument for foreign intervention in China's domestic affairs is not without some foundation.

"It is therefore imperative for Chinese statesmen to do everything within their power for the establishment at any cost of a stable central government as quickly as possible. This is the only way that they can prevent foreign interference which they most ardently desire to avoid.

Two Seek Post Of Mayor Of Canton

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Nov. 8.—The question of the mayorality of Canton has not yet been settled. Mr. Hu Han-min, the Civil Governor of Canton, desires the appointment of Mr. Chao Lu, the President of Kwangtung University, while General Fan Shek-shang, commandant of the 3rd corps of Yunnanese and Garrison Commissioner at Canton, has proposed his own aide-de-camp, Mr. Li Chung-haan. General Fan is reported to be threatening to lead his men back to Yunnan unless his nominee is accepted.

Canton is still without newspapers as the newspaper owners and compositors have failed to come to terms. After the breakdown of negotiations between them on November 3 several publishers began to call in non-union compositors and within three days had practically completed their printing room staff. It is therefore believed that publication of the papers will shortly be resumed.

Grand Total of all Sales 1131779

The Burroughs Duplex
—A Machine with a Memory!

If you knew a man who could add several groups of figures—one after the other—and then remember all the totals so that he could instantly write the grand total of all the groups, you would consider him very unusual, wouldn't you?

Certainly you would! But any one of your employes using a Burroughs Duplex can do the same thing. The Duplex will add groups of figures, furnish totals and then produce a grand total without relisting or re-adding a single item. It is really two adding machines in one!

This remarkable machine will also list two sets of figures alternately, give an independent total of each and a combined total of the two if desired.

The Burroughs Duplex brings added speed and accuracy to the handling of all kinds of dissection work, such as sales by assistants, commodities or departments. It will also list cost and selling price, quantities and amounts, gross and net, debits and credits, cash and discount, in one operation and give an independent total of each.

Much time is needlessly wasted in making two operations of work which the Burroughs Duplex—the adding machine with a memory—will take care of in one. Think of the time, labor and money that this machine will save you in your business.

Let the Burroughs representatives show you how the Burroughs Duplex will help you.

For your convenience in obtaining more information about the Burroughs Duplex, we have inserted a coupon in this advertisement. If you feel that this remarkable machine will help you to do some of your figure work easier and quicker than you are doing it at present, just mail the coupon as addressed. A demonstration will cost you nothing, nor will you be placed under any obligation.

STRESEMANN LAUDS WORK OF LONDON CONFERENCE

German Leader Lauds Conciliatory Attitude

RESULTS ALREADY

Sees Good Prospects For Commercial Negotiations

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Nov. 13.—In a speech at Dortmund today, Herr Stresemann, the Foreign Minister, paid a tribute to the understanding and conciliation which dominated the London Conference, especially the negotiations with the French and Belgian statesmen, which had borne fruit and justified the confidence that those countries would fulfil their obligations.

Herr Stresemann declared that the commercial negotiations with Britain were proceeding with good prospects of success. He denied that Germany would shortly flood foreign countries with German goods and keep out foreign goods by prohibitive tariffs.

The Foreign Minister expressed dissatisfaction with the response to Germany's memorandum regarding her entry into the League of Nations. He asserted that only a few powers had replied to the memorandum, and not all of these had fulfilled expectations.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 13.—According to the Matin the Franco-German negotiations in connection with the commercial treaty are meeting with difficulties in harmonising certain points in the future treaty with the Dawes plan regarding deliveries in kind.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Nov. 14.—Dr. Stresemann in the course of a speech today expressed the opinion that the Franco-German economic understanding was vital for the pacification of Europe for the next decade. The negotiations, therefore, would be accorded Germany's special attention and the German market would be opened to France by an offer of the most favored nation treatment.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Nov. 14.—Difficulties have arisen with regard to Franco-German negotiations for a commercial treaty. According to the newspapers, Germany is demanding concessions with regard to the evacuation of the Ruhr and the political status of Germany, and is also making representations against the 26 percent levy.

The French members of the committee charged with the organisation of German deliveries in kind are also said to be raising difficulties, declaring that if they did not get satisfaction before January 10 the treaty of commerce would never be submitted to the Reichstag.

In an interview with the German Ambassador today M. Herriot is said to have declared that he could not consider the latest demands which might shortly be followed by fresh claims.

MR. S. T. WEN IS HOST AT TEA TO NEWSPAPERMEN

Asks For Co-operation On Three Vital Local Issues

Members of the local journalistic fraternity were guests yesterday afternoon at a reception given at the Union Club by Mr. S. T. Wen, new Commissioner of Foreign Affairs. The host, after expressing his pleasure at the presence of so many newspapermen, sounded a note of optimism on the present situation in China. He likened the recent war as a quarrel between two brothers; although the neighbors were very much excited, he said, the brothers would soon shake hands with each other, only to leave the neighbors more mystified than ever.

The fact that the eight Yangtsze provinces had issued a declaration supporting Marshal Tuan Chi-jui, he said, indicated that the old Peiyang Party was once more united and Marshal Lu Yung-hsiang and Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan who once fought against each other and caused such tremendous commotion in the neighborhood of Shanghai, were now united under the common flag of Peiyang.

Commissioner Wen then made an eloquent appeal for co-operation on the part of the newspapermen in order to accomplish three things in Shanghai which were essential to the welfare of the great commercial metropolis, the greatest in the Far East.

First, the yamen of the Defence Commissioner of Lunghua must be abolished, he asserted. It was on account of this yamen that the war in Kiangsu and Chekiang was waged. Now the aim was accomplished, the Shanghai and Sungkiang area having been returned to the Kiangsu province, there was no necessity for the existence of the yamen. He hoped that the press would back up the strong sentiment against the office and abolish it at once.

Second, the fair name of Shanghai had been stained by the evils of opium smuggling and gunrunning. Dr. Alfred Sze, the Chinese delegate to the Opium Convention at Geneva, was subjected to all kind of attacks and humiliation on account of the deplorable opium conditions here and it was high time that public opinion should be directed against those evils and get rid of them at the earliest possible moment.

Third, the improvement of the public works and sanitation in Chinese territory should be emphasised, he said. The comparison of the engineering successes in the settlements and sanitary improvements with those of Chapei and Nantao filled all Chinese with shame and there was no cause for the disgraceful conditions. With an increase in the house rents and taxes and finer organisation, he could not see why these districts should not compare favorably with the adjoining settlements.

The speech was interpreted by Mr. N. T. Yang, first secretary of the Bureau of Foreign Affairs.

Responses were made by Mr. W. J. Davey, managing director of the Shanghai Mercury; Mr. George Bronson Rea, editor of the Far Eastern Times; Mr. George Lloyd, of the Lloyd's Weekly; Mr. Jabin Hsu, Chief Sub-editor of THE CHINA PRESS and Mr. Zau Chung-hsi, managing editor of the Republican Daily News.

MARSHAL CHI WILL NO LONGER OBEY PEKING ORDERS

Instructs Local Bureaus To Ignore All Presidential Mandates

The local Chinese governmental bureau yesterday received a telegram from Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan of Nanking, ordering them to ignore all 'bogus' Presidential Mandates issued from Peking. The message asserted that since the coup d'etat instigated by Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang, the Central Government had not been able to function properly, so all mandates issued from then on must be ignored by the province of Kiangsu.

The telegram intimated that a request has been made of the other provinces friendly to Kiangsu for similar action and until a proper government is introduced in Peking, this order would be enforced.

This step amounts to a declaration of independence by Kiangsu from the present Peking administration, and again puts Shanghai in a peculiar position, one perhaps not unlike the one it experienced under Ho Feng-lin, the previous military official.

When Lu Yung-hsiang declared independence from Peking, the then Defence Commissioner, Ho Feng-lin, being a loyal supporter of Lu, followed suit and Shanghai was considered by Peking as a 'rebel area'. Now after the war is over and when Shanghai, to all appearances, is restored to Kiangsu through the action of Marshal Chi, who is the supreme military ruler of this district, Shanghai again be classified as a 'rebel area' by Peking.

SUIT AGAINST ASIA BANK UP IN U. S. COURT

Chinese Hong Sues To Recover On Payment Made For Glue Shipment

The case was continued yesterday morning in the United States Court for China, before Judge Milton D. Purdy, in which the Hung Tai Hong sued the Asia Banking Corporation and Messrs. Gaston, Williams and Wigmore to recover the sum of Tls. 5,336.41 damages for the alleged wrongful conversion of five tons of flake glue sold to plaintiff by the second defendant.

Plaintiff's case was that in July, 1921, he purchased the glue from Messrs. Gaston, Williams and Wigmore, paying for the same by a native order which was taken together with a delivery order for the same to the Asia Bank who received the native order and endorsed the delivery order, the goods being at that time pledged to the bank. Plaintiff did not take delivery at the time and in January, 1922, when he did go to take delivery he found the goods had disappeared. When he went to Messrs. Gaston, Williams and Wigmore on the subject, they referred him to the bank and vice versa, with the result that he had neither obtained the glue nor had his money refunded.

Called for the defence, Mr. Walter Smith, formerly with the defendant bank, said he had originally come out from the United States on behalf of the Guaranty Trust Co., to clear up certain matters in connection with merchandise consigned to Messrs. Gaston, Williams and Wigmore. The latter had consigned to them 450 bags of glue, the documents having been sent to the Asia Bank with instructions to release the cargo against payment. On his arrival witness removed the remaining 225 bags of this cargo, as well as others in various godowns into one under control of the bank, but found that while he had 225 bags, Gaston, Williams and Wigmore said he should only have 112. He was unable at the time to trace the discrepancy and in December, 1921, he sold 112 bags, the remainder being disposed of on January 12, 1924. The next day plaintiff complained that the goods were missing from the godown on which he held the delivery order.

at almost every social gathering is some-one afflicted with unpleasant breath, a distressing circumstance to all concerned. Sometimes this affliction is due to decayed teeth. More frequently the teeth are not to blame, but other causes for which the proper remedy is Pinkettes. Are you constipated, bilious, liverish? Have you sick headaches, vertigo, flatulence, pimply, blotched skin? These are symptoms associated with bad breath which Pinkettes quickly correct. Then the breath becomes sweet and pure. All chemists sell Pinkettes, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

New York, Nov. 13.—Prohibition officials assert that the days of the "rum row" are coming to an end. Already a number of large vessels have been captured. The supply of liquor from small boats leaving the bootleg fleet far out at sea for points along the shore has been reduced by about 90 percent. Liquor now costs $10 a pint as compared with $3 or $4 previously.

FORRAL VS. FLORES

Benny Forral is to meet Flores in an eight-round go at the Isis Theater this afternoon at three. These two boys are well known here, Forral being one of the best of the bantams now fighting in Shanghai, while Flores, who is less clever, is a hard fighter who can jar Forral considerably when he lands on him properly, which Benny cannot always prevent. The two have already fought several times here, a draw decision or a Forral judgment being the result of their previous bouts, and the fight should be worth seeing. They have never failed to put up an interesting exhibition together.

The main event is preceded by a number of preliminaries which include Filipino, Portuguese, Chinese and Korean boys, and which many will find of interest.

NINGPO BASKETBALL

Ningpo, Nov. 13.—The Ningpo Middle School basketball team, champions of the Ningpo Interscholastic Athletic Association's games last winter, will start the season with a game against the quintet of the English Methodist College Saturday, November 15, at the Chekiang Fourth Middle School's playground. King's Daughters' Society Nursery Fills Real Need

The King's Daughters' Society has supplied a long-felt want in Shanghai by the establishment of a nursery for children whose parents are unable to look after them personally; and while the nursery at present is being run on a small scale it may be that the demand will necessitate the enlargement of the society's activities in this respect.

The nursery, occupying the upper floor of two of the society's houses, thrown together for the purpose of convenience and space, is located on Dixwell Road, near North Szechuen Road. Two foreign ladies are in charge of the children, and Mrs. Wheen and Mrs. Ortwin make frequent visits and generally supervise the work.

At the present time there are eight children in the nursery, ranging in age from 11 months to six years. There is one large room used as a dormitory for the little ones, another bright sunny room where they eat and play, and a verandah where they can get fresh air when the weather is too damp for them to play in the pleasant garden in front of the house.

The nursery is bright and clean and while there is no lavishness anywhere, the children are well-fed, have their own little beds and covers, and are well cared for. A few little things are needed—mugs, some extra covering and toys or gifts of clothing would not be amiss as the parents of the children are usually too poor to furnish the latter two articles themselves.

A minimum charge of $20 per month for each child is made. This is absolutely necessary for the proper maintenance of the nursery and out of this sum the children are housed and fed. Their food is prepared by Mrs. Doff, the matron, who was formerly a Red Cross nurse. The daily fare, while simple, is adequate for children—soup, meat, vegetables, cereal and bread, depending on the age of the child. Each child in addition receives a bottle of milk daily.

The nursery was established last July and has been functioning since then on a small allowance; it is hoped that more subscriptions will be received in order to continue the work and, if possible, enlarge it, as the nursery accommodations are limited and the house is filled to capacity now.

Reception And Tea To Inaugurate First Wing Of New Country Club

Shanghai's newest club, the Columbia Country Club, will be opened informally tomorrow afternoon with a reception and tea dance.

The new club, truly a country club with only the golf links missing, is situated about 20 minutes by motor car from the Bund on Great Western Road.

Members and guests will find a most pleasing building, although less than half of the club building has been completed.

Only the athletic wing has been completed to be used for the social gatherings of the club members. But so nicely have plans been worked out in converting the gymnasium into an attractive hall room and making the future bowling alleys a cozy retreat for between dances that the guest within the doors would never know that the gymnasium is a gymnasium.

The reception tomorrow afternoon will be held at 3 o'clock to continue until 4:30 o'clock. At 5:30 o'clock the regular Sunday afternoon dance will be held to continue until 8 o'clock. More than 250 persons have made tea reservations. The usual tea dances will be held every Sunday afternoon, with music by the Hotel Plaza orchestra.

The hard tennis courts are ready for use and have already seen several sets of tennis. There are five hard courts. The grass courts, of which there will be about 30, will be ready for play in the spring.

The gymnasium will not be used as such until the remainder of the clubhouse is finished but will continue to be used as gathering place on Sundays and in the evenings after a brisk bit of tennis.

The swimming pool, by far the most attractive in Shanghai, and one of the largest, white-tiled faces on the south. The pool is 42 [illegible] long and 100 feet long, surrounded by a Spanish pergola which makes an excellent setting. A large lounging space is found at the north end of the pool. This lounge will be used for tea [illegible] until the other wing is completed.

The new club has followed the Mission type of architecture. One is transported quickly to Southern California when one enters the athletic wing. Palms line the driveway from the main road. Red and yellow and white flowers are to be found adding their bit to the general atmosphere of the club.

The permanent heating plant has been constructed and is ready for operation. It is located 25 yards away from the wing and heat will be carried through a large pipe into the wing until the remainder of the country home is completed. The pump station, to supply the swimming pool with artesian water, is also located in the heating plant building.

The gymnasium has a high ceiling. A balcony runs around two sides of the gymnasium. Just off the gymnasium-ballroom are the bowling alleys. A temporary floor has been installed in the bowling room and partitions have formed a roomy kitchen at one end of the bowling alleys.

The men will have large locker rooms with bright looking shower rooms. A small bar is near the locker room. A locker room has been provided for the ladies at the other side of the gymnasium. Both of these rooms will be used as locker rooms from the opening.

When finally completed the club will contain a card room, mah-jongg room, large reception room, bar, ball room, 42 by 90 feet, dining room and squash courts. A large terrace will face the south, leading to the tennis courts. Living quarters will be provided on the second floor for nearly a dozen men.

Construction on the remaining section is expected to get under way shortly.

The club, at present, has a membership of approximately 500. It was organized in 1917 and has been in leased quarters on Route Doumer since organisation.

Present officers are Mr. L. Everett, president, Mr. E. H. Staber, vice-president, Mr. R. D. Bunn, treasurer, Mr. J. B. Davies, honorary secretary, and Mr. L. J. Hilden, secretary.

Municipal Electricity Foreman Has Home Looted By Gang Of Five

The loss of jewelry and cash totalling more than $600 in value was reported to police of the Harbin Road Station by Ka Loong-zien, a foreman in the Municipal Electricity Department who resides at 2014B East Yu-hang Road.

Ka told the police that a man called at his house. The front door was bolted, but when the caller asked for Ka by name, saying that he had an important message, Ka opened the door. He was confronted by five men, all of whom were armed with pistols. They entered the house and demanded a loan of $4,000.

Ka attempted to mediate with them, but they seized a gold finger ring which he was wearing, and then seized two gold finger rings from his wife and one from his son. When they again demanded money, Ka's wife handed over all of her keys. While two of the men remained on guard downstairs, the other three ransacked the two bedrooms on the upper floor and took a cash box containing money and various pieces of jewelry. Then all five decamped.

Fathers And Sons Have One Real Good Time

A very enjoyable time was had by all the fathers and sons at the Navy Y.M.C.A. last night when the Community Church held their fourth annual Father and Son banquet. With the Shanghai American School supplying a great part of the sons there were some 190 present at the party.

The affair began with a swim in the "Navy Y" pool at 5 o'clock, when everybody had an hour's fun in the water and after working a good appetite adjourned to the Auditorium where a heavy feast of sukiyaki was spread.

While the dinner was in progress Dr. J. C. McCracken acted as toastmaster and William Hall delivered a very excellent speech to the Father while his father Mr. H. K. Hall gave his idea of the Son, speeches were delivered from the various orators present and then came one of the most important items of the program for M. Malini, the great Magician with all his charms and magic with him, donated his services to the gang of men and boys by performing in his own particular style. Everybody fully enjoyed his performance.

After the dinner Mr. N. Westwood, manager of the local office of the Universal Pictures Corporation, presented the party with a Buddy Messenger film which kept the audience in continuous hilarious bursts of laughter. Following the picture the real fun came in, when they rigged up a horizontal pole about three feet from the floor and held a series of pillow fights, the two contestants sitting on the pole and fighting with pillows until one fell to the floor. In this event the sons had fights and then the fathers picked their quarrels.

Rev. C. M. Drury closed the evening with a very short and appropriate prayer after they had all joined in a hymn.

Mr. H. V. Bernard is certainly due a great deal of credit for his management of the program and getting together such a successful party for all present fully enjoyed every minute of their time spent and the affair was one grand success. Mr. Bernard is to be complimented for his ability to induce M. Malini the magician to attend and give the gathering such a wonderful performance.

Presented by
CARL LAEMMLE

A Mighty Photodrama of Brave Hearts and True Souls—A Man's Courage and a Woman's Constancy

With a brilliant cast, including:
CHARLES DE ROCHE
MADGE BELLAMY
WALLACE MacDONALD
FORD STERLING
A. GIBSON GOWLAND
PRISCILLA DEAN MORAN

Story from the celebrated French novel, "We Are French," by Robert H. Davis and Perley Poore Sheehan.

This is the famous picture that played on Broadway at $1.50 a seat! Of which the New York Daily News says Carl Laemmle "has every reason to be proud"

With one great, poignant scene that will burn itself indelibly on your memory.

You see the maddened charge of the Moorish horseman on the blazing Sahara sands. You see the Moorish Commander standing over the lone French bugler, with naked sword and murderous mien. He orders the captive to sound the French retreat. The bugler, smiling into the face of Death, raises his bugle to his lips and blows—not the Retreat—but the CHARGE. And so the name of Anatole Picard, the "Bugler of Algiers," goes down among the immortals.

WEN SHOU-TEH GETS TSINGTAO GOVERNORSHIP

Whole Of Pohai Squadron To Be Stationed There, His Plan

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tsingtao, Nov. 14.—Admiral Wen Shou-teh yesterday afternoon announced his acceptance of the Governorship of Kiaochow territory, which he had been urged to do by the Shantung Tuli, General Chen. The news has created no surprise here.

The Admiral announced that the whole Pohai Squadron would be stationed at Tsingtao. The upkeep of it would be $120,000 monthly, of which amount $70,000 would be provided monthly by the Province out of the funds which had hitherto supported the 1st Brigade, now disbanded, $30,000 from a special railway tax and the remainder from the Provincial Treasury.

Admiral Wen Shou-teh also made a statement to representatives of the press to the effect that he had dissuaded Marshal Wu Pei-fu at Taku Bar from coming here, warning him of the international complications which would ensue.

This book is recently published by the China Trade Bureau, New York, and commanding a large market in America. It contains an exhaustive discussion on the past, present and future of the trade relations between the United States and China in four parts and eighteen chapters. The author devotes much attention to the individual articles of imports and exports, and also to the British, Japanese, German and other competitions with American commercial interests in China. The value of this book can be realized from the following comment made by the China Weekly Review in one of its editorials (Aug. 16, 1924; pp. 355-6.).

"We wish it were possible to reproduce the book completely in the columns of the Review, but that is impossible; so the next best thing is to recommend its careful perusal by merchants and also by officers interested in the changes and transitions taking place in this market. Without question, it is one of the most significant works on this subject which has appeared in recent years."

German Dye Firms Combine To Sell Products In Japan

Cartel Firms Establish Joint Distributing Agency To Maintain Prices

Washington, October 9.—The chemical division of the Department of Commerce has issued the following statement based on report from the office of the American Commercial attache at Tokio, concerning merger of German dye agencies in Japan:

During the past few weeks there has been in progress in Kobe the first steps of a merger of the selling activities of all the German dye agencies in Japan. This step is doubtless prompted, immediately at least, by the recent Japanese government in connection with the importation of foreign dyestuffs. Doubtless, had existing treaty arrangements permitted, imports from all foreign countries would have been subject to these requirements, but as the matter stands at present they are aimed principally at the German product.

The Badische Anilin und Soda-Fabrik took the first steps toward bringing about the merger and appointed a man to head the new organisation. This is a Mr. Kuhweide, formerly agent for the Badische in Bombay and connected with the company for about twenty years. He is reported to be an intelligent and energetic individual, well qualified to carry out the rather difficult task before him of co-ordinating the activities and interests of the different German concerns operating in this market, which have hitherto been competing with each other. Of course, they have always had price agreements informally entered into, all of the large firms here being representatives of members of the German I. G., but there has been in the past occasional cutting of prices by all of the firms, which has led to considerable exasperation. Furthermore, it will take time to iron out the difficulties likely to arise in persuading the managers who have been working individually to work together peacefully and efficiently. Some of them are men who have been in Japan many years and others are comparative newcomers, and there will inevitably be considerable friction.

FIRMS NOW REPRESENTED

At the present time the principal German concerns having offices or selling agencies (practically the same thing in this case, as their agents do nothing else but represent them) in Japan include the Badische Anilin und Soda-Fabrik, the Farbenfabriken vorm. Friedr. Bayer, Leopold Cassella & Co. G.m.b.H., Actien Gesellschaft fur Anilin-Fabrikation, Farbwerk Muelheim vorm. A. Leonhardt & Co., Farbwerke vorm. Meister Lucius & Bruning, and Kalle & Co., Actiengesellschaft. The new organisation, which has not been given a name as yet, will be managed by Mr. Kuhweide, who will be assisted by five commercial directors, two technical directors and two directors who will specialise on indigo sales. The last two have just been added to the scheme, as it was planned at first to leave the indigo sales out of consideration. No information is available as to the distribution of power within the organisation, but it is safe to assume that all the important companies are represented, in view of the number of directors provided for. It would also be safe to assume that the two indigo men are from Badische and Hoechst, which provide practically all of the German indigo sold in Japan. The present managers of the concerns are all provided for, either as directors or authorised to sign per pro in the new organisation.

Within a few months it is expected all of the present offices will be combined in one large office, and all of the laboratories now maintained by the different companies will be combined in one large central laboratory. This will be staffed by about fifteen German chemists and over a hundred Japanese technical men, if all present staffs are continued. Altogether there are about a hundred Germans on the staffs of the dye concerns, and it is given out that they will all continue as heretofore but probably they will be cut down somewhat in the next few years. The new scheme should certainly provide an opportunity for considerable economy in the foreign staff employed.

One question which looms up immediately is that of the future relations between the German agencies and the Japanese firms with whom they have had particularly close connections. Each of the German concerns has one or more Japanese distributors through whom they sell exclusively, although these distributors often make purchases from other sources of supply. The new director has informed these firms that no change in the present arrangements will be made. In many cases these special selling connections date back thirty or forty years, but it seems inevitable that some of them at least are going to suffer somewhat in the reorganisation of the German selling methods. They are frankly worried about it. For example, one Japanese firm which has sold Badische and Hoechst indigo exclusively for years is in a fair way to lose this monopoly under the new arrangement.

EFFECT ON OTHER PRODUCTS

As for the side lines of the German chemical factories no decision has been reached as yet as to whether or not they will be included in the merger. Such items would include heavy chemicals, pharmaceuticals, photographic supplies and so on. Reports are contradictory, but apparently the question is left for the individual concern to decide. Thus Badische's business in heavy chemicals, like sulphate of ammonia, hartshorn salt and compressed ammonia will not go into the combination, but will be retained by one of the proprietors of the present agency firm, H. Ahrens & Co. The pharmaceuticals of Kalle & Co. are said to be included in the new merger; the indigo of Hoechst and Badische was at first to have been excluded, but is now included.

At present there are three American dye manufacturers with offices in Japan—National Aniline & Chemical Co., E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. and Newport Chemical Company. The immediate effect of this merger on their business is likely to be favorable in view of the fact that the Japanese distributors of the German houses are somewhat restless during the present period of uncertainty and doubtful as to the security of their previous special connections. It will probably take about a year for the new organisation to get under way, and now is the time for the American houses to consolidate their present position and expand their connections as much as possible. The Germans, having the advantage of already possessing the bulk of the business and with ample resources insured by their combination, will soon become even more dangerous competitors. They will have an exceedingly powerful organisation, and they are reported to be planning the establishment of a string of technical laboratories all over the country where the dyers of the district can get trials made and apply for technical assistance whenever they want it. No individual firm could, of course, meet such a heavy expense as that.

A slight improvement in the dye trade is reported from Japan and other sections of the Far East through various channels. Prices, however, are not rising; because heavy stocks of low-priced dyes, received prior to the import ruling, are held in several quarters.

This is true of China as well as of Japan. The Chungking market, for example, is overstocked with German dyes. This market seems to have taken on a particular attraction for German dye firms. Bayer has opened an office with representation by Wolheim Gebruder; ter Meer is represented by Handels Gesellschaft, and Grisheim-electron, by Siemens & Co. Ehlers and the United Chemical Works are also distributing German dyes in Chungking.

NO OCEAN-GOING MOTORSHIP FLYS JAPANESE FLAG

But Several Oil-Engined Vessels Are Now In Course Of Construction

Although there is at the present moment not a single large ocean-going motor ship sailing under the Japanese flag, it is noteworthy that more than half of the orders that have lately been placed by Japanese owners are for oil-engined ships, writes a special correspondent of Lloyds' List. Vessels of this class totalling about 60,000 tons gross are being built, whereas it is believed that the steamers which are now in course of construction for Japanese ownership total scarcely more than 50,000 tons. Most of the orders for Japanese motor ships have been placed abroad, but among the few craft being built in Japan are two interesting small passenger and cargo coasters for the Osaka Shosen Kaisha. The order for the machinery for each of these vessels was placed with Vickers, and the two Diesel engines are now completing trials at the Barrow works. A similar motor for a ship of approximately the same size was built some time ago, and this vessel incidentally is the largest Diesel-engined craft now in service in Japanese waters.

A single engine is to be installed in each of these ships developing 600 to 650 b.h.p. at 150 to 160 r.p.m. It is a six-cylinder type, with cylinders 18¼ in. in diameter and a stroke of 27 in., and embodies the main features employed in the larger Vickers mercantile engines installed in many tank ships. The chief characteristic in this design is, of course, the employment of solid injection instead of the more usual atomisation by means of highly compressed air. Only one pump, operating at about 4,000 lb. per sq. inch, is used. This is driven from a layshaft operated through spur gearing from the crankshaft. The fuel is supplied to a common pipe, from which branches are taken to each of the separate valves. Speed control of the engine is effected by variation of the life of the fuel valves, the arrangement being actuated from a lever at the control station, although individual valves may be cut out independently of each other if necessary.

NEW ENGINE FEATURES

The engine is arranged in two groups of three cylinders, each group of cylinders being supported on an entablature which is bolted to the cast-iron frame. The two entablatures are connected together at the centre by means of a suitable cast-iron distance piece. Instead of having mechanically-operated starting air valves in each cylinder, a non-return valve is fitted, the compressed air being distributed to the various cylinders at the correct timing by means of distributing valves operated from the camshaft and arranged below it. Thus there are only three mechanically-operated valves in each cylinder cover, namely, for inlet, exhaust and the admission of fuel. An unusual point is that the exhaust valves are water-cooled, the cooling water being supplied to and discharged from the valves by means of flexible piping.

When the engine is in the stop position the fuel-valve lever rollers are out of contact with their cams. If it is desired to reverse, the reversing lever is moved, bringing a servo motor into operation which turns the manoeuvring shaft on which the levers for the exhaust and inlet valves are pivoted. Thus the rollers at the ends of these levers are lifted from the cams, and the camshaft is then moved fore and aft under the influence of the servo motor, the valve levers being finally brought down on to the exhaust cams. The starting air lever is then operated, which admits air to the cylinders in a position to receive it, and finally the fuel lever is actuated, which brings the fuel-valve rollers in contact with the cams.

The engine is self-contained, the circulating, lubricating oil, bilge and sanitary pumps all being driven at the back of the propelling motor. These are of the plunger type and operate at about 60 r.p.m.

SOUTH AMERICA LINERS

Orders have recently been placed by the same owners for three large cargo and passenger ships of particular interest. All of these vessels will be built in Japan at the Mitsubishi Dockyard, and will be of 430 ft. b.p. They will carry about 6,800 tons of cargo, and will be provided with a large amount of passenger accommodation. In each ship there will be installed two Sulzer-type engines developing a total of 4,500 b.h.p. or about 6,000 i.h.p. and running at 110 r.p.m. Electricity will be employed throughout the vessel and the generating plant will comprise three 250 b.h.p. oil engines running at 300 r.p.m. and driving 150-k.w. generators in addition to an auxiliary of 47.5 k.w.

These auxiliary engines are of the airless-injection Diesel type recently developed by Sulzers, operating on the two-cycle principle and being very simple in design owing to the complete absence of mechanically operated valves. Ample provision is to be made in the engine-room for a supply of manoeuvring air, and there will be two auxiliary manoeuvring compressors, each driven by a 140-h.p. electric motor. The machinery for two of the ships will be built by Sulzers in Switzerland, but that for the third vessel will be constructed at the Mitsubishi Dockyard under licence. When completed these ships will be placed on the Japanese-South American run.

Among the Japanese-owned motor ships which will shortly be put in commission, in addition to the two 10,000-tonners now building on the Clyde for the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, is a 7,000-ton craft which Burmeister & Wain are completing for Mitsui & Co., and a vessel of somewhat larger size fitted with a Camellaird Fullagar engine which is being built at the Kawasaki Dockyard. A notable feature in this connection is the variety of types of Diesel engine which Japanese owners are fitting in their new craft.

China Cotton

Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son, Inc., state in their weekly cotton market report:

The market has had rather a more active appearance during the past week and a further advance of about Tls. 1.75 has taken place, principally due to the firmness of Mid-Americans. The movement was rendered more vigorous by the covering of shorts, together with the continued small movement of commitments from the interior marts and a good demand from local spinners and exporters. The demand for spots continues good, with indications that receipts will continue to be freely absorbed, at least until forward engagements have been satisfied.

From the above it will be seen that as far as the general outlook is concerned, we still consider a high level of prices but we cannot encourage our friends to follow the bulls too far and would rather advise by buying on good declines. The situation continues to hinge on the developments of the Mid-Americans, coupled with the attitude of the interior and up-country holders.

Yarn.—The yarn market has been quite firm during the past week, prices advanced four to five taels from last week's level. In all some 9,000 to 10,000 bales in all counts have been booked for export to Szechuen, Swatow, Tientsin, Kiangse, Wuhu, Ningpo, Fukien, Hankow and Newchwang and over 3,000 bales direct booking with Mills has been recorded.

DEATH

KEITH HADLER, the one-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Meinhardt, died suddenly of pneumonia at Changsha, Hunan, China, on November 7th, 1924.

Plenty Of Money For War But None For Famine Sufferers

PRACTICALLY every large foreign firm in Shanghai—and Chinese firms as well, we imagine—are receiving requests for donations for relief work in practically every mail. As the weather becomes colder the requests become more frequent so that it doesn't require much imagination to realise the serious situation which will exist in practically all parts of north China in a few months.

In view of the existence of fighting in north and central China it has been difficult to concentrate attention upon the serious problem of famine relief which exists in the country, but now that conditions are quieting down, the voices of the victims of the floods of last summer and of the recent fighting are beginning to be heard and finally they will have to be heeded.

It is pretty difficult for the average foreigner in China, especially the business man, to become enthusiastic over applications for relief after what has been seen in China since the first of last September. In other words it is difficult for a foreign business house which has had its trade interfered with and in some cases entirely stopped by the activities of the militarists, to make out checks for the relief of the victims of the militarists, innocent though they may be of having caused the internal political turmoil. It probably would be impossible to estimate the amount of money which has been wasted in the fighting of the last two and a half months, but that it would be sufficient to handle China's entire famine relief problem and a considerable portion of her defaulted debts, goes without saying. In other words the average foreigner, charitably inclined though he may be, is asking the question, Why should we be forced to finance the famine victims when there apparently is plenty of money in the land for war purposes?

For this reason it seems that there should be some method of raising the extensive famine relief funds which will be required this winter without resorting entirely to contributions on the part of foreigners in China or abroad. Obviously a country which can raise millions of dollars to be thrown away in a useless war should be able to raise a smaller amount for a more important matter, which famine relief assuredly is. The Peking Government in cooperation with the Powers some time ago arranged for a famine surtax to be levied upon the Customs returns. Nothing has been heard regarding this money, except a few days ago when Peking turned down a request from Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan that the money raised at Shanghai should be used for war-relief work in this section of China. Naturally present Peking officialdom is doing nothing that might look like favors to an enemy official, but this nevertheless does not detract from the famine problem which must receive attention.

There is no questioning the seriousness of this situation and there is no use waiting for it to become acute before making plans for extensive relief measures. In view of the disordered political situation and impossibility of China herself handling this problem unaided, it would seem that the sensible way to handle it would be for the Government to officially request the assistance of disinterested foreigners. Just how it might be handled we do not know but that something might be done similar to the American Relief program in Russia a couple of years ago is one suggestion. Of one thing we may be certain, it is only in some way similar to this that the problem can be handled, for factionalism will effectively prevent any purely Chinese organisation from functioning.

The Fly In The Ointment

NOTHING could well be more tantalising than the tardy progress being made by the Russian Soviet and the Tokio Government in the direction of a resumption of official relations. After many months of desultory negotiations in Peking between the Japanese Minister and M. Karakhan, the Soviet delegate, another deadlock has arisen and no date has been set for the resumption of the negotiations. The question of the evacuation of Northern Saghalien is the rock on which the Russo-Japanese parley has been shattered, for the time being at any rate. In this connection, it is worth examining whether there exists in Japan itself any real desire to resume diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia at this stage. A speech recently delivered by Premier Viscount Kato to a meeting of the Kenseikai Party rather tended to indicate that the Tokio Government is somewhat indifferent to the Russo-Japanese conference that has been in progress in Peking. Viscount Kato remarked, in the course of his speech, that although the general public was of the opinion that the restoration of diplomatic relations between Japan and Russia would make for mutual commercial prosperity, this was unlikely, for before the war the trade between the two countries was not very prosperous, and further, that the present financial and economic system of Russia was somewhat hindering the development of trade relations. This is a view which finds endorsement in many responsible circles because it would be a hasty conclusion to say that the restoration of formal relations is greatly helpful to the growth of commercial transactions, as illustrated in the case of Great Britain and the Soviet. Recognition of the Soviet by Mr. Ramsay MacDonald not only failed to bring any material advantage to British interests, but, on the contrary, encouraged Soviet agents to embark on a campaign of plotting which might has assumed graver dimensions had not the Soviet game been discovered just in time. Small wonder, then, that Japan should be wary before according recognition to the Soviet. Premier Kato reminds the more tempestuous element of the Japanese nation which is for recognition of the Soviet, even at some cost to Japan, that the latter has a large credit against Russia, that the Nikolaievsk question is still pending and that for that reason the restoration of formal relations with Russia at a sacrifice is out of the question.

Financial and economic considerations cannot be the only motives which dictate Japanese policy toward Soviet Russia. The Tokio Government cannot be unmindful of the political effect of formal recognition of the Bolsheviks. The Government of the latter, it may be said without fear of contradiction, at present stands in the lowest scale of political morality. A great Tokio daily, the Japan Advertiser, aptly sums up the character of the Soviet by reminding us that the methods by which the latter recovered, or partially recovered, the much desired prize of the Chinese Eastern Railway, brand that Government as nationalistic and imperalistic in the extreme, as false to its obligations with other Powers and as having acted in such a manner as, in effect, to have "intervened" in China's civil warfare. The Soviet seized upon the disturbance in China to further its campaign of propaganda among the Chinese that the "capitalist imperialist Powers" were seeking to control this great Republic and that Russia alone stood out as China's friend against them. Except that continued recognition by the Powers of the Peking group of office-holders as the true and legal Government of China bolstered up that group to a certain extent, there has been no major act of any Western Power, save of Russia herself, that can be legitimately construed as intervention on a scale sufficient to be of real importance. Withdrawal of such recognition during the progress of the war would have been tantamount to intervention on behalf of Chang Tso-lin. But Russia, in concluding the separate agreement with Marshal Chang regarding the Chinese Eastern Railway, deliberately aided a man whom the Russian-recognised Peking Government had outlawed as a "rebel." Incidentally, Russia violated the agreement reached with Peking only last May, in which the two high contracting parties, Moscow and Peking, solemnly stated that they, and they alone, should deal with the vexatious and complicated problem of the Chinese Eastern Railway, and that no other factor, whether a political or an economic unit, should have any voice in the settlement of that problem. Russia, however, was and is far more concerned with obtaining tangible control of this vitally important line than with the observance of treaties and obligations.

The whole course of Soviet diplomacy is indicative of this one guiding principle of opportunism and of failure to let aught else count if there appears to be an opportunity for the Soviet to profit by disregarding past pledges and obligations. China has been given frequent occasions to grasp this fact, yet China went ahead blindly in dealing with M. Karakhan and let herself in for the treatment which she has now received. But there is scarcely any reason to suppose that other countries will be so hasty. Japan will probably decide to profit by the mistakes of others. It is a curious coincidence that civil commotion and disorder in China synchronised more or less with Peking and Canton's recognition of the Soviet, and recognition of Moscow by Britain's first Labor Government was made an excuse for an attempt by the Bolsheviks to corrupt the British army and get it to overthrow by violence exisiting institutions in Britain. Who can tell whether the same thing may not happen in Japan in the event of that country according premature recognition to the Soviet? The Soviet believes, perhaps with genuine conviction, that what is morally wrong can be politically right. So long as that forms part of its credo, to treat with it is only to court trouble. Russia nominally is a Soviet Socialist Republic, but in point of fact, she is one of the most imperialistic countries in the world today. She has latterly been developing a nationalism more intense than that of some existing monarchies. And Russian nationalism apparently is no less a menace to the world than Russian Communism has been.

Other Views Than Ours On The War In China

WHO IS ARMING THE CHINES E?

(Detroit, Mich., News)

Five powers have dispatched warships and men to the neighborhood of China's civil war to protect nationals and their property in the Shanghai area. A sizable part of the world's government is moving swiftly to defend its interests, endangered by a conflict which may easily induce a situation as serious as the Boxer uprising.

Splendid. But this civil war is waged with rifles and field-pieces and airplanes and ammunition, and if anyone can show how this material is being produced in China, the disclosure will surprise a great many persons familiar with the East. It is stated, and not disproved, that the machinery with which the conflict is being carried on has been supplied the warring forces by citizens of the same Western nations now rallying suddenly and energetically to the defense of their nationals.

Two years ago at Washington, several enlightened Christian powers pledged themselves to permit no more exportation of arms to China. The pact was entered into for the purpose of preventing the precise thing now taking place. If these powers were honest when the pledge was made and are honest now, they will want to know the source of China's new rifles and her planes and modern cannon.

It is an indisputable truth which strikes every student of the causes of war, that one of the most malign and pernicious accessories before the fact in any modern conflict at arms is the man with murder machines to sell. His fat years are those in which blood is being spilled. What is poison for humanity is his meat. The governments beneath whose protection he operates can control him. If they won't their sanctimonious poses of neutrality are rank hypocrisy.

GIVE CHINA A CHANCE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Sir,—Since the coup d'etat at Peking, public opinion in the nation has been divided on the question whether the move by the Christian General, Feng Yu-hsiang is justifiable; or as to the question which is right, Feng Yu-hsiang or Wu Pei-fu? Politicians formerly loyal to one political party are now pinning their faith to the party now in power—or otherwise. Dr. Sun Yat-sen, for the last eight years head of the de jure government at Canton, and Marshal Tuan Chi-jui, the "grand old man" of the Anfu Clique, have been asked by General Feng to come up to Peking to discuss the future of the nation. What the results will be, only time can tell.

One important thing for the people of the nation to realise, is that we must hereafter not be too quick in giving our political affiliations to one party or another. We must study their motives and wait and see the consequences. We must devote more interest to politics. We must not trust any tuchun, or politician: they are all enemies of China.

We must ask our foreign friends of China to be patient. China's present political upheavals should not prevent foreigners from seeing the future prospects of the Republic. Read the History of France and compare the Republic of France with that of China. France had three changes of government: the first Republic 1792-1804; the second Republic 1848-1852; and the third Republic 1870—. The intervening periods were filled with changes and confusion. Who can say that the French Republic is now ideal? Her frequent changes in cabinets within the last fifty years answers the question very well. Observe the history of England, the most democratic country in the world, and see what it teaches us! Great Britain was not united until 1707 by the Act of Union, before which date Britons carried down the traditions and customs from their forefather Anglo-Saxons from earliest times. To democraticise a country with a much wider area and with a much bigger population than either France or Great Britain, is really a very hard problem, and demands a long, long time. So, foreign friends, do not be disappointed with China and say evil or satirical things against us.

WANG I-TING.

STILL MORE ON THE ACCOUNTANCY QUESTION

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Sir:—"Jacinto" is quite right when he says that the local Portuguese community is composed of "a few hundred working men," out of these no one rushed to the press to contradict what is alleged to have appeared in your valuable paper about the merits and demerits of Portuguese and Chinese in business houses; "Jacinto" is the only one.

I really don't know why he is making so much ado about it. What I know is that "in the opinions of people who ought to know," (they certainly know) there was no intention on the part of the writer of the alleged article to offend the Portuguese community hence the reason that no one out of the few hundred, except "Jacinto," cared to bother their fellow countrymen with such an unnecessary contradiction, therefore the least said about it the better.

Thanking you, Sir, for your valuable space,

I am, Yours truly,

M. Fatfat.

It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.

I know that some of the people who bore us with too frequent quoting of prices really do it without realizing that they are doing it. It becomes second nature to them. Psychologists could tell us no doubt what sort of a complex is responsible for this persistent reference to costs. It may be that in childhood there was incessant talk of prices and costs between father and mother. It may be that in childhood or early youth there was never enough money, or money was grudgingly given by the head of the house.

Some women always quote prices when they have paid amazingly little for a thing, or amazingly much. They "collect" furniture, pictures, and other furnishings, and they want you to understand that they seldom acquire anything that isn't a tremendous bargain. They are lucky that way. And then as if to counteract all those low prices, they inadvertantly refer to the price of the rugs, or the stuffed chairs and Chesterfields.

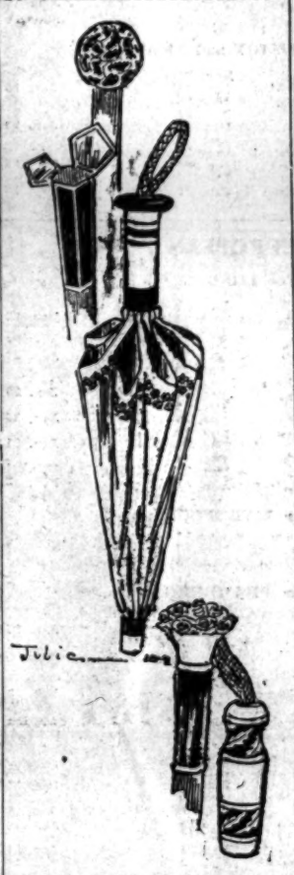
Umbrella Heads Seem to Make Us Out a Nation of Grown-up Children

The quickening of our interest in the English royal family since the visit of the Prince of Wales to these shores may remotely have had something to do with the keen interest we seem to be taking in umbrellas of late. Umbrellas seem to play a most important role in the daily habits of the family of the Prince. Queen Mary seldom seems to be without one out of doors, if her photographs tell the truth, and the Princess Mary walks to church, attends reviews, and visits exhibitions likewise with umbrella in hand. It must be a sort of family tradition that it's never quite safe to be without one.

Generally speaking, Americans are strikingly negligent in the matter of providing against showers. We own more automobiles and fewer umbrellas and raincoats than other folks, and not a few American women make the boast that they don't even own an umbrella. They trust to gasoline or fair weather. At the races, and all sorts of athletic meets, smartly dressed European women have taught our women that umbrellas may be carried with distinction. They need not be a blot on the landscape of an attractive getup.

The newest and smartest o the umbrellas of the day are coby little affairs, with a short thick end. The pendulum swings in this as in other things. Fifteen years ago when umbrella manufacturers were first producing thin metal sticks for umbrellas it seemed as if we could not have them too slender. It was the thick, stocky umbrellas that then looked passee.

All sorts of little images and figures form the heads of the new umbrellas. It must be proof that we adults are still children overgrown, with a latent fondness for carrying toys and dolls about with us. The woman who likes dogs chooses a wooden French bulldog with a collar made of fur and a leather strap. The bird lover chooses a funny little round owl's head atop a polished wooden handle, or a some century and a half ago prorot, and there are umbrella tops like sword handles for the woman of militaristic leanings.



Interesting new umbrella handles.

ARE YOU A COAST TALKER?
Some women seem to be a walking dictionary of the prices they have paid for things all their lives. Let's see—that little maple table out there in the hall. Yes, you bought that for six dollars at a sort of junk shop—the man asked ten, but you beat him down to six, and it cost just three dollars and seventy-five to have it "done over." Not such a bad bargain for nine dollars and seventy-five cents.

I know a woman—nice woman, too—who has been abroad this summer, and when I see her for the first time after her return I know perfectly well what I shall hear. It will be the rates of this hotel and the prices of gloves in that place, the amount one has to tip in London and the cost of taxes in Paris, the cheapness of prints in Rome and the exact cost of the beads bought in Florence. Really it calls for a remarka

ZIONISTS FORM NEW SHIP LINE

President Arthur Their First Vessel, Negotiations On For President Fillmore

The flag of Zion will fly from a trans-Atlantic liner when the former German liner President Arthur leaves New York next March for the American Palestine Line.

Announcement of the purchase of the President Arthur by a newly formed steamship company which will retain American registry was made yesterday at the offices of the line, No. 15 Whitehall street. Negotiations are under way to purchase the steamer President Fillmore.

The present schedule of the American Palestine Line calls for a sailing from New York every sixty days. The President Arthur will go direct to Haifa, Palestine, with no intermediate calls. The speed of the steamer will enable it to make the passage in fifteen days.

The menus of the President Arthur will be strictly kosher and synagogues will be placed in each class cabin. The interior is now being remodelled to make her an exclusive first and second class cabin vessel.

NOTABLES ON FIRST TRIP

The departure of the ship from New York on March 12 next will be marked by the presence on board as passengers of more than six hundred prominent Jews, who will inaugurate the advent of the first Jewish steamship line with appropriate ceremonies. Already, the line announced last night, three hundred have been booked for the initial trip.

The president of the American Palestine Line is Justice Jacob S. Strahl, of Brooklyn, one of the leading Zionists of the United States, Judge Strahl, within the past week, has returned from Palestine, where he was sent on various missions by the Zionists and where he arranged for port facilities at Haifa for the new "first Jewish steamship line." He also investigated possibilities for obtaining freight cargoes. Judge Strahl said:

"The Palestine government reports that during last October, November and December four hundred and fifty-five commodities were imported into Palestine and that the United States only furnished ninety-four. American deliveries consisted of petroleum, benzine and machinery amounting to $270,000."

TO CARRY 4,000 TONS

In the reconditioning of the ship, which is now under way, arrangements will be made to handle 4,000 tons of cargo. Also on the vessel will be complete showrooms where American merchants can exhibit their wares to Near East purchasers.

As the German liner Princess Alice, the ship was designed to carry 2,384 passengers. Reconditioned, she will have accommodations for 675. The reduction in cabin arrangements is designed to provide ample room for amusements, gymnasium, swimming pools and a large social hall, where concerts, pictures and lectures will be given.

Officers of the line are Judge Jacob S. Strahl, president; Myron Krieger, Morris Polsky, Philip Wattenberg and Harry Weltfisch, vice-presidents; Jacob Wacht, treasurer; J. W. Gottlieb, secretary, and H. Epstein, general manager.

Pelvic Pirouetting Of Occident Fought In Japan

The gain in popularity of the pelvic pirouetting of the occident over the traditional pivoting of the orient has brought forth a call to the people of Japan.

Mrs. Kimu Hayashi, one reputed to be the most beautiful woman of Japan, has issued the call, according to advices to Shanghai yesterday.

And thus she issues a call to arms—and feet—for the restoration of Nippon's native dances.

"There is dancing in Japan, handed down from our ancestors which is as beautiful as any form of dancing," she says. "I am disgusted with the fox-trot and other modern dances."

Mrs. Hayashi is constructing a stage at Koishikwa where she will instruct in the dance of old Japan.

She is being assisted in her crusade by Mr. Ujyo Noguchi, the poet, and Mr. Chosei Motoori, the art critic.

And another change of dancing position in the United States has been decreed. The decree carries with it earmarks of the more stately and modest dance of yesteryear.

These earmarks are naturalness, gliding grace, restraint and sobriety—all of which, according to American dancing instructors who attempt to influence the steps in which dancing should go, are lacking in varying degree in the modern, clutching "last-straw" fox-trots.

Jazz strangle holds are not supposed to be done this year. Likewise the freak manners of gripping hands are taboo.

When you dance this winter, you will be either all right or all wrong and there are not two ways about it, the dancing teachers say.

The jazzier steps are going out and the gliding movements are coming in.

Red Forces Near Canton Forced Back; Entrenching To Hold Off Chen's Army

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Canton, Nov. 5.—It is reported that the Red forces have been forced to evacuate some of the territory east of Shektan which has been occupied by General Chen Chiung-ming's troops. The Reds, however, are determined to hold on to Canton itself and have dug trenches ten miles long from Yuan Ngan Tung to Han Yuan Kong.

General Liu Chen-huan, commandant of the Kwangsi troops in Canton was said to be willing to depart for Kwangsi with his followers if the title of Shangchang (or Chief) of Kwangsi was conferred upon him. Dr. Sun Yat-sen has accordingly granted him this title.

Mr. Yang Saae-om, a well-known Hongkong Chinese merchant, has been appointed by Dr. Sun to be secretary of the commissariat of internal affairs in Canton, in place of General Shao Cheng, who has resigned. Mr. Yang was at one time Chinese consul in Honolulu.

PLAN ELECTIONS

The authorities have appointed Messrs. Wong Tse-chung, Chiu Shih-ken and Yao Lai-sou members of the board of election to prepare for the holding of an election for a mayor of Canton. They will only allow students, workmen and merchants to cast their votes indirectly through the Educational Association, the General Chamber of Commerce and the Labor Unions, thus preventing a direct popular ballot.

The Cantonese military authorities in Swatow, through their Director of Finance, Mr. Chau Shen-nan, are issuing a military loan of $400,000. The native banks and other financial institutions in Swatow are underwriting the loan.

INSURANCE LOSSES

Many insurance companies in Canton are refusing to pay for the buildings destroyed by fire by the "Reds" on October 15 last, stating that they consider the destruction an act of war. Policy holders have formed a committee to oppose this contention and those having difficulty with their underwriters are consulting together and filing statements as a preparation for joint action.

The renewal of the opium traffic in Canton has not led to such a large revenue for the monopolists as they had expected. This is said to be due to many private sales by the Yunnanese mercenary troops and to wholesale smuggling by certain militarists. It is asserted that to promote sales and increase opium smoking, licenses will be issued to tea-houses, restaurants and other public houses as well as to the ordinary "opium dens."
